

Annual Investor-State Dispute Settlement Update 2023

About the instructor

Yarik Kryvoi is Director of the Investment Treaty Forum at the British Institute of International and Comparative Law and a co-founder of the Arbitration Lab.

Prof Kryvoi practiced with top law firms in Washington, D.C. and London has published on international investment law and dispute resolution and runs BIICL online course on this topic. The new edition of his monograph on ICSID will be published by Kluwer in 2023.

The course will feature his insider's perspectives related to the work of the UNCITRAL Working Group III: Investor-State Dispute Settlement Reform and the empirical study on allegations of corruption in ISDS commissioned by the UN on Drugs and Crime.

How is the course taught?

- A choice of online, live and hybrid options
- The online version includes a combination of engaging videos, quizzes and a learning journal
- Asynchronous nature: begin and finish the online version at any time

Learn more and contact

- Watch the course trailer (video)
- Read more \(including feedback of former participants\) (link)
- info@arbitrationlab.com (email)

What will the course cover?

- An overview of the Energy Charter Treaty reform process, its impact on ISDS and why states withdraw from the treaty
- The most important recent developments at the UNCITRAL Working Group III, including third party funding, costs and damages, and multilateral instrument on ISDS reform
- Key empirical findings of the yet not public UN study on the impact of corruption allegations in ISDS, including relevant treaty provisions, jurisdiction and merits, burden and standard of proof and the red flag analysis methodology
- The impact of sanctions on investor-state arbitration (users, institutions, and law firms) with a particular emphasis on EU and UK Russia-related sanctions

Fees

- Standard fee for online participation: £19 per person (enrol)
- For group discounts, live and hybrid options please see the next page side.

Fees

	Online version only (video lectures, quizzes, reflective journal)	live only (in-person or remote)	online and live
1 participant	£19
Up to 20 participants	£299	£599	£799
Up to 50 participants	£599	£899	£1,199

To request a live session please email info@arbitrationlab.com